

Automated Manufacturing Solutions, Inc. • 21 Doheny Lane • Laguna Niguel, CA 92677 • 949.495.0530

Consider ROES as your remote order entry system. Clients like it because:

- The entire system can be set up in weeks...not years!
- Ordering is clear, simple and quick...and includes cosmetic drawn-to-scale pictures.
- Need to duplicate an item or an entire quote? ROES does it in one super-fast step.
- Want to revise an order quickly? ROES lets you switch an item with one click!
- It's a geometrics whiz!
- ROES helps you analyze and spot important trends with our time-saving data mining package.

It's stunningly flexible and retailer friendly

- ROES offers true customization as you need it, with prompt turnaround.
- ROES plays nicely with others, so you needn't worry when interfacing with another system.
- When choices, such as grids and Oriel windows, are related to size, ROES helps as needed.
- Twins and other combinations are pre-set or customized with easy-to-use spreadsheet sizing.
- You'll discover dozens of convenient extras such as support for install locations and elevations.
- Need to create a complicated multiple-window combo? ROES' "Pick and Click" makes it easy.
- Emailing documents is a snap, whether pre-setup or triggered on the fly.
- Your retailer clients will appreciate having their logo/graphics integrated into their paperwork.
- Retailers also enjoy having their own client database with personalized setup.
- ROES provides instant notification of an order, along with its content.
- Want to set time limits on your quotes? Roes can automatically re-price an expired quote.
- ROES draws and aligns, so what you see is what you get. Notch positions are also available, ensuring a perfect match between the picture and finished product.
- Cross-compare product series -- even between different manufacturers -- by flipping from one to the other, and back, with a touch of a button.
- Display and optional printing of costs, breakdowns and totals can be managed as preferred.
- Last but not least, ROES is extremely budget-friendly. We offer 24x7 hosting so there's nothing extra to buy, and no IT department or staff needed to maintain and operate the system.